STATE WILL ATTEMPT TO GET DEATH SENTENCE FOR BEN NOBLE

Nature of Questions Put in Impanelling Jury Point in That Direction.

TRIAL IS STARTED ABOUT NOON

Prosecution Excused All Men Who Would Not Return Death Verdict on Circumstantial Evidence.

COURT MAY BE HELD AT NIGHT

Regular Jury and Special Venire of 25 is Exhausted, Causing Delay—50 More Ordered.

That the State is intent on obtaining a death sentence for Ben Noble of Decatur county on trial for the murder of Albert Sprague of the same county, by whom he was employed at the time, which began in the circuit court shortly before noon today, seems imminent by the manner in which the attorneys for the prosecution put their questions in examining jurors. They always asked if the juror would have scruples against returning a death verdict, in case the evidence, even though it be circumstantial, proved to him beyond a reasonable doubt that Noble was guilty of the crime. The State's attorneys nearly always received an answer that the juror would not return a death verdict under such circumstances.

For that reason the regular petit jury of twelve members as well as a special venire of twenty-five jurors was exhausted before 2 o'clock this afternoon and it was necessary to issue a call for a special venire of fifty more jurors late this afternoon. The trial was held up for that reason and the work of impanelling a jury, it was expected, would not be started again before four o'clock this afternoon. The sheriff and his deputy will be compelled to drive all night in order to get the fifty members here by tomorrow, so that the work of obtaining a jury may be continued.

When the Noble trial was first sent here, the idea was expressed that the trial could be finished in three days. Now the ideas are different. As this is the last week of this term of court, Judge Blair is very anxious that the trial be completed by Saturday. He said this afternoon, that if the trial had not proceeded as he thought it should by tomorrow afternoon, he would hold night sessions the remainder of the week until the end.

The defense which Noble's attorneys will use has only been hinted at. It was stated this afternoon by one of his attorneys that insanity would play an important part in the evidence which they will introduce and the argument which they will use. It is said that it can be shown that Noble's mind has been slightly affected since childhood and that he was examined for insanity at the age of sixteen years.

At three o'clock this afternoon, the State's attorneys had found only five men out of thirty-seven of which they approved as jurors. The five were Richard N. Farlow of Anderson township; Ray Owens of Orange; Alvan O. Moore of Ripley; Fred W. Knotts of Washington, and Frank Megee of Rushville. It is not at all likely that they will sit on the jury as they may yet be excused by the defense, which has not had a chance at the jurors.

Immediately after dinner, the work of examining the jurors, conducted by Prosecutor Dennis O'Neil was begun. The following jurors were challenged and excused by the State, Homer A. Miller of Walker; Conrad Kuntz of Orange; Isaac Barnard of Center, brother of the former congressman; Solomon Morford of Union; William Ormes of Walker; Edward Holman of Noble; Earl M. Tweedy of Posey; John E. Campbell of Orange; S. Lee McKee of Center, and William B. Hill of Ripley.

When it was learned that the court had excused a few jurors, the sheriff found that the venire of twenty-five had been exhausted and a conference of the attorneys for both sides was called. The State refused to allow men to be picked up off the streets to be used as jurors and demanded that another venire be called. The special venire of fifty was drawn up and the work begun to get the men into court so that the trial could proceed.

The Noble trial was not started until eleven o'clock this morning, due to the fact that the attorneys and witnesses from Decatur and Bartholomew counties did not arrive until that time.

Ben L. Smith, as attorney for Noble filed a motion to quash the indictment and it was overruled. The court asked Noble to stand and the warrant, charging murder in the first degree, as returned by the Decatur county grand jury, was read.

"What is your plea?" asked the court.

"Not guilty," replied Noble.

The work of impanelling was started at once and the regular petit jury for the term was seated in the jury box. After they were sworn in the prosecution began the examination of the witnesses. From the very first it was evident that the State intended to get a jury that will inflict the death sentence on circumstantial evidence, if that be possible. In the hour before noon, the State exhausted the regular panel and eight of the special venire and from that time it seemed imminent that the day would be spent in getting a jury.

John S. Hilligoss of Walker township was first examined. "Have you any scruples, if the evidence shows," (Continued on Page Four.)

Last Night in Jersey City
After Long Illness.

SURVIVED BY TWO CHILDREN

Mrs. Margaret A. Plummer, 80 years old, died last night at ten o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Sarah Plummer, in Jersey City.

Mrs. Plummer was born January 25, 1831 in Kentucky and had lived in this county for forty-seven years, formerly living in Homer. She was the widow of Martin Plummer, who died four years ago. Mrs. Plummer had been ill for the last two months, suffering from a complication of diseases.

Deceased was a member of the Adventist church. One son, Richard of Homer, and one daughter, Mrs. Julia Boring of this county survive her. The funeral services will be held at the Goddard church at one o'clock Thursday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. A. L. Miller of Indianapolis. The cortege will leave the residence at twelve o'clock. Burial in the church cemetery.

DEATH RECALLS LOCAL INCIDENT

Letter Addressed to Dr. Marshall
Sexton From Vice-President Colfax Prior to Marriage.

MISSIVE SHOWN IN PUBLIC

Dan Kinney, Only Man Living Today,
Who Was Present at the Time.

The death of Mrs. Ellen Wade Colfax, 73 years old, widow of the late Vice-President Schuyler Colfax which occurred at her home in South Bend last Saturday, recalls an episode to many Rushville pioneers, which happened here at the time Mr. and Mrs. Colfax were married.

Dr. Marshall Sexton, now dead, father of Mrs. C. H. Parsons and Dr. J. C. Sexton, and Mr. Colfax, it is well to mention in the beginning, were the best of friends. All through life they were the best of chums, enjoying each other's companionship much. In the Indianapolis Star, where an account of the death of Mrs. Colfax was given, was reproduced a letter which was written to a friend by the late vice-president on the eve of his election to the vice-presidency:

The letter is brief and is as follows: "Two elections in one month! Ought I not be happy. But I expect more real happiness from the election decided by one than from the election decided by millions."

That letter, exactly as it was reproduced in the Star, was written to Dr. Marshall Sexton. He exhibited it in the old court house, which then stood where the new and modern structure now stands.

Dan Kinney of West Tenth street is the only man living today who was present at the time the missive was read before several county officials. Mr. Kinney was at that time county recorder and remembers the details of the incident which was recalled by the death of Mrs. Colfax, perfectly. Other well known local men, now all deceased, who were present at the time Dr. Sexton exhibited the letter were Frank Tingley, then clerk of the circuit court; James Brown, the clerk's deputy, and E. H. M. Berry, then county treasurer, besides Mr. Kinney, who is the only surviving member of the party.

CIRCUIT COURT IN NIGHT SESSION

Civil Suit Sent Here From Henry County Dismissed on a Motion
by Plaintiff.

WAS TRIED BEFORE A JURY

The case of Lewis W. Davis and Alonzo L. Davis of New Castle against Harry E. Jennings and Amos Mendenhall of the same place, on a contract, demanding $125.00 occupied the attention of the court last night until eight-thirty o'clock. A certain point was brought up and the plaintiffs thought the court would rule against them and asked that the case be dismissed, which request Judge Blair granted. The case was sent here from Henry county May 29, 1909.

RUSHVILLE GETS IN GIFT COLUMN

Lieutenant Governor Frank J. Hall is Rewarded by Senate With $100 in Gold.

APPRECIATION OF SERVICES

John Kelly, Chief Door Keeper of Senate, Presented With Diamond
Shirt Stud.

Though there was war in the air, legislatively speaking yesterday, to a greater extent perhaps than has been evident on any other day during the session, there were truces throughout the day in both Houses, during which many beautiful gifts were tendered superiors by those who have worked under them during the present session, says the Indianapolis Star.

Lieutenant Governor Hall, called from a desk where he was affixing his name to numerous bills, ran full tilt into $100 in gold, presented to him by members of the Senate, with a neat little speech by Senator Harlan. The senator from Marion county told of the services of the president of the Senate during the two last sessions and with a glowing tribute to the fairness of Mr. Hall told how he had grown into the hearts of all who had come in contact with him.

Senator Kistler, who was in the chair at the time, interrupted the prologue to Lieutenant Governor Hall's address of acceptance with "Governor Hall must not believe that this gift is a wedding present."

A roar of laughter greeted the remark of the chair and Lieutenant Governor Hall, fingering the five gold "doubloons," thanked the Senate for the gift. He said the remark of the chair, directed at his well-known failing—lack of the matrimonial idea of existence—had relieved him of the embarrassment of speaking upon that subject. Lieutenant Governor Hall said:

"I feel that you have rewarded me far beyond my merits. I have attempted to be just since I have been the presiding officer of this Senate, and I hope I have done so, as far as my human frailties would permit. I have tried from distinguishing between the members of this body because of their political beliefs so far as that practice has been within my power. I hope I have succeeded in doing so to the satisfaction of every one."

"If I have been severe while trying to keep order on the numerous occasions of disturbances in this chamber it was only because of my intention to keep the business of the State of Indiana going."

The Lieutenant Governor then lauded Speaker Veneman and his attitude of co-operation with the Senate throughout the sessions just closing. He referred again, to the gift of the Senate in closing his speech.

"I feel that you have overdone the job with this token of your esteem," he said.

The last day of the Sixty-seventh General Assembly was a happy one for John Kelly of Rushville, chief doorkeeper of the Senate. The assistant doorkeepers and janitors who have worked under Mr. Kelly during the sixty-one days just ended, presented him with a handsome diamond shirt stud as a token of friendship and appreciation for courteous treatment.

There was a little "nonpartisan" gathering at Senator Kistler's desk on the majority side of the Senate chamber after adjournment of the morning session, at which Senator Kistler presided. During the brief after session Mr. Kistler told Mr.

Kelly all about how much the senators and employes thought of him, how well he had looked after the interests of the members and employes during the session and wished him well for the future.

Mr. Kelly responded to the little presentation speech by saying his services as doorkeeper, he believed, did not warrant such generosity, and for that reason he appreciated the gift all the more.

RECEPTION FOR HIGH OFFICIALS

Martha Poe Chapter No. 143 Order
Eastern Star, Will Hold Big Event Thursday.

MANY VISITORS ARE COMING

Martha Poe Chapter, No. 143 Order of Eastern Star, will hold a reception Thursday afternoon and evening, beginning at four o'clock, in honor of Mrs. Blanche Regett, Grand Matron of Indiana, and the Rev. Willis D. Engle, Most Worthy Grand Patron of the United States. The Connersville and Morristown chapters have been invited and it is expected that about forty visitors from each place will attend. A banquet will be served at six-thirty o'clock and will be followed by a number of toasts. In the evening the degree work will be exemplified on a class of candidates.

The Masonic reception of the chapter and council was held yesterday afternoon and evening at which time John Glendenning of Indianapolis held an inspection of the orders. A banquet was served at six-thirty o'clock, which was attended by many visitors. Last night the conferring of degrees took place.

CONNERSVILLE TO HAVE 19 SALOONS

Fayette County Let Down Bars to Liquor Interests and Allows
One to 500 Persons.

LICENSES ARE GRANTED TO 10

By refusing to take advantage of the power vested in them to limit the number of saloons in Connersville to any number from one to every five hundred of the inhabitants of the city up to one to every one thousand inhabitants, the board of commissioners of Fayette county, at their regular monthly session Monday, literally threw down the bars to the saloon men, says the Connersville News. The board considered and granted liquor licenses to every applicant who filed a legal petition for same. Ten licenses in all were granted. Originally there were eleven men who made legal publication that they would apply for license, but Richard Hughes withdrew his notice several days ago.

Under the law as passed by the Indiana Legislature, the operation of which is not interfered with in the least by the commissioners, nineteen saloons may exist in Connersville. The legislature computes the inhabitants of a city by multiplying the total vote cast for the candidates for mayor at the preceding election by five, which would give Connersville a population of 9,830, or five times 1960, the total vote cast for Gray and Wiles at the last election.

Only one person in every four in London is earning more than $5 a week.

TO DETERMINE LICENSE FEE

City Council in Regular Session Tonight, May Name Amount Saloons Will Pay.

REGULATIONS OF THE LAW

Lowest Price May be $200, Highest $500—No Action Taken, Fee
Will be $200.

The city council will meet in regular session this evening at which time it seems very likely that the amount of license which to be paid by saloons in Rushville will be determined or steps will be taken in that direction. The mayor and members of the city council have refused to make any statement in regard to what will be done and it is not known just what action will be taken or whether any action will be taken at all.

The city council has the sole power to fix the amount of license fee, which is vested in that body by the Procter restrictive law. The law provides that the license in a city of this class shall be two hundred dollars. But the act gives the city councils the power to raise the license in cities of this class as high as five hundred dollars. So that the council may fix the fee between those two extremes, if they act within thirty days after the bill becomes a law. It was signed by the governor Saturday. In case they take no action, the fee will be two hundred dollars.

Section, twenty-three of the Procter law, which pertains to the regulation of fees is as follows:

"Every person, firm or corporation to whom a license for the sale of intoxicating liquors at retail or any renewal thereof is granted, shall, before making any sales of intoxicating liquors under such license, or renewal, pay into the treasury of said township, city or incorporated town, the license fees as follows, to wit: That if such premises are located within the corporate limits of any city of the first and second classes, or within four miles thereof, the city shall charge a license fee of three hundred ($300) dollars; if within the corporate limits of any other city or within two miles of such corporate limit, the sum of two hundred ($200) dollars; if within the corporate limits of any incorporated town or within two miles of the corporate limits thereof, the sum of one hundred and fifty ($150) dollars; if located without the corporate limits of any city or incorporated town and not within the distance from such city or incorporated town as hereinabove provided, the sum of fifty ($50) dollars shall be paid into the treasury of the township: Provided, That the common council of any city or the board of trustees of any incorporated town may increase such license fee as follows: In cities of the first and second classes, or within four miles thereof, and in any other city or within two miles thereof, to an amount not exceeding five hundred ($500) dollars; and in any incorporated town or within two miles thereof to an amount not exceeding three hundred ($300) dollars. But no such city or town shall have any power so to increase such fees unless the same be done within thirty days from the time this act takes effect: Provided, further, That where such premises are so located as that the sum to be paid by any such licensee as herein provided will be payable to more than one city or town, such sum shall be paid to the city or town in such county nearest such premises."

LIMITING NUMBER OF SALOONS IN INDIANA

One to Each Thousand Seems to Be Popular Ratio.

Indianapolis March 7.—At the opening of their March meeting Monday the commissioners in several counties of Indiana restricted the number of saloons that may be licensed, in accordance with the provisions of the Proctor regulation law. One saloon to each 1,000 population seemed to be the popular ratio. Commissioners in other counties will fix the limit later in the week.

Counties which have reported action by the commissioners in fixing the number of saloons are given below, the figures showing the population required for each saloon:

Tippecanoe, 1,000; Fulton, 1,000; Boone, 1,000; Johnson, 1,000; Huntington, 1,000; Grant, 1,000; Blackford, 500; Pike, 1,000; Cass, 500; St. Joseph, 1,000; Lawrence, 1,000; Dubois, 500; Brown, 1,000; Morgan, 1,000; Dearborn, 500; Switzerland, 1,000.

The provision in the new liquor regulation law which gives the board of county commissioners the right to change the limitation of the number of saloons that may be established in any county, reads as follows:

"Provided further, that the number of retail licenses which may be granted in any city or township under this act shall not be more than one for each 500 inhabitants thereof, which number may be further limited by the board of county commissioners of any county to any number not less than one to each 1,000 inhabitants of such city or township. Any limitation by the board of commissioners shall be made at its first session after this act takes effect."

The provision which gives the city council the right to increase the license fees reads as follows, being a part of Section 23:

"Provided, that the common council of any city or the board of trustees of any incorporated town may increase its license fees as follows: In cities of the first and second classes, or within four miles thereof, and in any other city or within two miles thereof, to an amount not exceeding $500, and in any incorporated town or within two miles thereof, to an amount not exceeding $300. But no such city or town shall have any power to so increase such fees unless the same be done within thirty days from the time this act takes effect."

COOPERATIVE EXPERIMENTS
WITH COMMON FIELD CROPS

Farmers in Indiana desiring to test a few of the leading varieties of either corn, oats, soy beans or cow peas this season should apply at once to the Soils and Crops Department, Experiment Station, Lafayette, Ind., to have their names on the list for a set of seeds. The Department's seed supplies are limited and only a few lots can be sent to each county. The seeds are furnished free of cost on condition that they be carefully tested side by side, and the results reported after harvest.

Summaries of the results of last year's tests, together with the average results for the last five years are being published in bulletin form. During the last five years 3731 tests on nearly as many farms, and averaging over 40 to the county, were conducted and the results are highly valuable as a guide to the selection of varieties for different parts of the State.

The following recommendation as to the choice of varieties are based upon the results of the extensive tests above referred to.

Corn—For northern and north-eastern counties:—Early Yellow Dent, Wabash Yellow Dent, Dunn's Yellow Dent and Anson's White Dent.

For the north central counties:—Reid's Yellow Dent, Hudson's Leaming, Pulaski County Golden Dent, Riley's Favorite and Silver Mine.

For south central and southern Indiana—Johnson County White Dent, Vogler's White Dent, Bride of Indiana, Alexander's Gold Standard and Johnson County Yellow.

Oats—Great Dakota, Silver Mine, Swedish Select and probably Great American.

Soy Beans—For northern Indiana—Early Brown and Ito San.

For central Indiana—Hollybrook, Early Brown and Ito San.

For southern Indiana—Hollybrook

* DR. HURTY SAYS BUTCHER *
* COWS BITTEN BY DOGS. *

Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the State Board of Health, advises owners of cattle which are bitten by mad dogs to take the cattle to the butcher immediately and convert them into beef, while the "covering is good." He so advised a man at San Pierre a few days ago, and although newspapers in the northern part of the State have been inclined to criticize the State secretary on account of his theory, Dr. Hurty says he has nothing to retract.

"After an animal has been bitten by a mad dog," says Dr. Hurty, "the disease will not develop until at least twenty-one days have passed. It takes that long for the disease to get into the system. It is ten days before a microbe begins to reproduce and get busy at the point of inoculation. Therefore, I say that the cattle are not impaired in their food value if they are killed, say five or six days after being bitten by a mad dog. I advised a man who had written to me about his cows that he should either rush them off to the butcher right away, or quarantine them for thirty days and see what happened. That was good advice and I stick to it."

RETIRING SENATOR TO TAKE UP HIS PEN

Beveridge Succumbs to the Lure of Literature.

Washington, March 7.—Senator Beveridge will leave for Indianapolis tomorrow. He will make a brief visit and then return east for an extended stay. He will keep his law offices open in Indianapolis, but does not expect to enter actively into the practice of law. The senator will continue to reside in Indianapolis.

He has many offers, but will remain unattached, devoting himself to study and to writing on public questions. He has been offered salaried positions as editor, large sums as a lecturer, all of which he has turned aside.

Senator Beveridge enjoys a fair income from royalties on his books. This is likely to be augmented greatly by the plans he now has for writing. The senator expects to make a tour of Canada this summer and closely study the Dominion's civil institutions with a view of writing up his impressions.

RULES AGAINST WEST VIRGINIA

Supreme Court Says She Must Pay Her Share.

DATES BACK TO WAR TIMES

When the Old Dominion Split In 1861 the Western Portion Agreed to Carry Its Share of Outstanding Bonded Indebtedness—The Amount Was Never Paid and Now Supreme Court Holds West Virginia Responsible.

Washington, March 7.—The supreme court holds that the state of West Virginia should pay $7,182,507.48 as her proportionate share of the original public debt of the old state of Virginia as it existed in 1861.

When West Virginia applied for separate statehood in 1861 and parted company with the commonwealth of Virginia there was a large outstanding bonded indebtedness which the Old Dominion had incurred, largely through the influence of that part of the state that is known as West Virginia. The money was to have been used for development in West Virginia. Railroads and canals were to be built and avenues of commerce opened up. In the constitution adopted for West Virginia it was agreed as a part of the terms of the separation that the new state should assume its equitable share of the bonded debt. But the amount was never paid. The commonwealth of Virginia carried the burden, although the indebtedness has taken on new forms through refunding. The original amount was approximately $34,000,000.

LOOKING FOR TROUBLE

Uncle Sam Preparing For Eventualities in the West Indies.

Washington, March 7.—A force of 700 marines will sail tomorrow from Philadelphia on board the transport Prairie for Guantanamo. This is the largest detachment of marines that has been assembled since the expedition was sent to Nicaragua last year. The force will be landed at Guantanamo, where they will remain until further orders. Secrecy has been maintained in naval circles over the fitting out of the expedition. The belief is expressed here that Guantanamo may be only a temporary stopping place of the detachment.

In the last few weeks political conditions in Hayti have not been as satisfactory as could be desired by the United States, and the force of 700 marines at Guantanamo would be available for duty in Hayti or any other part of the West Indies in case it became necessary to protect American or foreign interests there. While there seems to be no immediate intention of landing a force in Hayti, the impression prevails here that the state and navy departments desire to have a large force available in the West Indies for immediate duty in case their presence becomes necessary anywhere near by.

CAUGHT HIM ASLEEP

Holdup Man Who Shot Two Alexandria Policemen Now in Jail.

Alexandria, Ind., March 7.—James Walker, the murderous holdup man who killed Virgil Kirkman, a patrolman, and seriously wounded John Ellis, chief of police, here late Saturday night, is in jail at Anderson. Walker was captured in a barn on the farm of John Remington half a mile west of Frankton, by a posse of thirty men, including policemen and deputy sheriffs from this city, Elwood, Anderson and Muncie. Rifles and revolvers were carried by members of the posse. Walker was asleep and offered no resistance, and his capture was effected without the firing of one shot, much to the surprise of the posse of policemen and the sheriff's force, who expected a fight.

Mystery in Workman's Terrible Death.

Indianapolis, March 7.—George Round, fifty-one years old, met a terrible death when he was burned in the cupola in the foundry at the Dean Bros. steam pump works. He was burned almost to ashes and his body was found some time after the fire in the cupola had exhausted itself. The manner in which he got into the receptacle is a mystery.

Indianapolis Jefferson Birthday Dinner to Be Attended by the Nebraskan.

Indianapolis, March 7.—William J. Bryan has written Senator Kern and notified the committee having charge of the arrangements for the local Jefferson birthday celebration that he will attend. He will probably speak on "The Passing of Plutocracy." In his letter to the committee Bryan says: "Indianapolis is an excellent place for the banquet, and I hope the fact that special session convenes in April will not prevent the attendance of a number of our leading Democrats. I am glad that Governor Wilson is going to be there."

BREWERY WAGON ARRIVES

Attracts Attention, Being First One Here in Two Years.

A sight, unfamiliar for the last two years to the eyes of Rushville citizens was seen last evening when a brewery wagon drove into the city. The wagon attracted no little attention, as it was new and was painted in bright colors. The outfit drove through from Indianapolis, preparatory to the opening of the saloons.

TRY TO GET A DEATH SENTENCE

of inflicting the death penalty?" asked the State's attorney.

"Yes sir," replied Hilligoss. "Would the scruples which you may have against the death penalty, keep you from performing your duty as a juror?"

"It would," he replied.

So it went with all of the twenty men who were examined. They, with two exceptions, said that they would have conscience scruples against inflicting the death penalty on circumstantial evidence alone and others declared that they might inflict the death penalty on direct evidence. But that was not what the State wanted. Every man, with one exception, in the regular venire of jurors, assented that he would not inflict the death penalty on circumstantial evidence alone. William A. Billings of Anderson township said he would not hesitate to return a verdict of death even though the evidence be only circumstantial, if it proved to him beyond a reasonable doubt that Noble is guilty.

After the State had examined the regular petit jury of twelve men, they challenged John Hilligoss of Walker township for cause. The challenge was sustained by the court and he was excused. Richard N. Farlow of Anderson township, who was the first of the special venire to be called, was not challenged by the State, when he declared that he could inflict the death penalty even though the evidence be circumstantial.

W. E. Tarplee of Richland township, a member of the regular jury, was challenged by the State and excused by the court. At the noon hour, it had been found impossible to fill his place. William O. Hall of Anderson township; Charles E. Cassidy of Walker; R. T. Moore of Ripley; John J. McCoy of Posey; Jesse C. Brooks of Jackson and Samuel Kennedy of Posey were all unsuited to the State's purposes, were challenged by the prosecution and excused by the court. Homer A. Miller of Walker was called and sworn in just before the court adjourned at noon.

Ben Noble was brought into the court room shortly before eleven o'clock and was seated with his counsel, Ben L. Smith of this city, and John E. Osborne of Greensburg. His brother, Charles Noble of Edinburg, and half-brother, Frank Hager, of Indianapolis were seated with him. Noble did not seem the least bit perturbed, was very easy and showed no signs of emotion.

Seated with the attorneys for the prosecution were John F. Faust of Bartholomew county, brother of Mrs. Sprague, widow of the murdered man, and Neil Sprague, of Decatur county, brother of the murdered man. Seated just back of the attorneys were Mrs. Albert Sprague and her two daughters, seven and ten years, respectively. The attorneys for the State are Dennis O'Neil, prosecutor of this district; John C. Cheney of Shelbyville, deputy prosecutor of this district; Ralph Sprague of Columbus, prosecutor of the Bartholomew-Decatur district and James Cox, an attorney of Columbus.

ASKS CUSTODY OF TWO CHILDREN

August Ebbing of Walker Township Files Habeas Corpus Proceedings Against Ollie Larimore.

CHARGES THEFT OF HIS GIRLS

Alleging that Ollie J. Larimore holds his two children wrongfully and without right, August Ebbing of Walker township filed habeas corpus proceedings in the circuit court this afternoon against Larimore, asking for the custody of his two girls, Anna and Lizzie Ebbing. Court will be held tonight on account of the Noble trial in the day time, when the proceedings will be heard. The plaintiff alleges that Larimore took the two Ebbing children from their home in Walker township last Saturday without any cause and is now holding them at the corner of Perkins and Third streets. Ebbing declares in the complaint that the defendant was his housekeeper and that her act was illegal. Sparks and Gary are the plaintiff's attorneys.

AMUSEMENTS

The Palace offers a Biograph film tonight, "A Wreath of Orange Blossoms." The picture deals with a very pretty romance and is up to the standard of all the films produced by this company. Earl Robertson will sing "I'm on the Right Side of the Right Girl at the Right Time, in the Right place."

The Vaudet has a Thanhouser film for the first picture tonight. The subject is "The Fairies Hallowe'en." The other film is an Imp drama entitled "Unreasonable Jealousy." The picture shows to what extremes a jealous husband will go when he suspects his wife. The picture is true to life in every detail. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The show at the Star Grand given under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. lodge last night proved to be all that had been said of it and then some. The Lucas orchestra of ten pieces played several selections which pleased. Mr. Edward's solos delighted the crowds. This theater will present an Imp picture tonight entitled "Maid or Man." It is a farce comedy of the best type with a series of dead funny situations, each following swiftly on the heels of the other, and winding up with a happy finish. It is another of the "Little Mary" series and you will laugh till your sides ache. C. T. Edward will sing "Dreams, Just Dreams."

Miss Bessie McCoy will appear at English's opera house in Indianapolis on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 9, 10, 11, with a Saturday matinee in Charles Dillingham's musical production, "The Echo." It will be the first appearance as a star of this graceful and talented young woman. "The Echo" is by William LeBaron and Deems Taylor. It is in two acts, the first being laid at the Echo House, a mountain resort. Miss McCoy has the part of the head waitress at the hotel. She becomes entangled in many difficulties. Incidentally, she introduces half a dozen new dances. In Miss McCoy's support are John E. Hazzard in the leading comedy role; J. J. Seannell, Edgar Halstead, Douglas Stevenson, Joseph Herbert, Jr., George White, Bon Ryan, George Drew Mondum, Rose and Jennie Dolly, Grace King, Evelyn Carrington, and last but not least Mrs. Annie Yoaman, "the grand old woman of the stage." A feature of interest is "Toots Paka and her Hawaiians." She dances the hula-hula of the South Sea Islands.

GOING TO MAKE SESSION BRIEF

Congress Has No Love for Capitol in Midsummer.

TENTATIVE PROGRAM ADOPTED

Following the Prompt Action on the Canadian Reciprocity Agreement, the Wool and Cotton Schedules of the Present Tariff Law Will Be Taken Up For Revision—Departmental Investigation Is Threatened.

Washington, March 7.—A bill embodying the terms of the Canadian agreement, together with provisions amending the cotton and woolen schedules
of the tariff law, will be passed
not later than May 1, if the present plans of the Democratic committee on ways and means are carried out.
Although the Democratic committeemen are at present not inclined to discuss their plans at length, the legislative program for the special session, so far as the tariff is concerned, may be summarized as follows:

First, the presentation of a bill enacting the provisions of the Canadian agreement. To this is to be added amendments revising the wool schedule, which the president himself characterized as "indefensible," and the cotton schedule.

Second, a bill revising other schedules affecting the necessities of life.
It is the belief of the Democratic house leaders that their first tariff bill can be disposed of, so far as they are concerned in four weeks at the most.
With that out of the way the committee on ways and means will tackle another bill, which will provide for reductions on the necessities of life not touched upon in the first measure.
This second measure, passed and transmitted to the senate, the house will be ready for other business. The leaders expect that the senate will proceed deliberately in the consideration of these two tariff bills. Accordingly, they will provide work to keep the house busy.

Definite plans covering the period between the date of the passage by the house of the tariff bill says the return of one or both measures by the senate have not been completed. They are now being discussed informally.
No effort will be made to perfect a program until the work now in hand has been finished. Representative Ollie James of Kentucky strongly advocates the creation of special committees to inquire into the activities of the nine executive departments.
This proposal may be adopted. Democrats generally want the special session to be as brief as possible. Action on the tariff bills will be expedited under the terms of rules patterned after some of the "gag" propositions worked with so much success by the Cannon organization.

Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee has announced the names of the majority members of the rules committee as follows: Representatives Henry of Texas, Pou of North Carolina, Garrett of Tennessee, Hardwick of Georgia, Stanley of Kentucky, Foster of Illinois, Denver of Ohio. The Republicans will be permitted to name the four members who will represent them on this organization. The committee will meet daily from now until the reassembling of congress.

MADERO CLOSING IN

Mexican Rebel Leader and His Forces Near Chihuahua.

El Paso, March 7.—Francisco I.
Madero, leader of the Mexican revolution, and his army are now near the city of Chihuahua, according to all reports. His announced intention is to take that city and set up his headquarters, reopen the railroad to Juarez after taking Juarez, and then attempt to gain recognition from the United States. Juarez has only 400 soldiers to defend it.

A special from Monterey says many people are leaving there and Chihuahua for the United States, and that Consular Agent Carothers has been advised that Chihuahua is surrounded by 5,000 insurgents.

Reports have reached Torreon that the town of Tapia fell into insurgent hands after hard fighting, in which dynamite was used, but that the insurgents later retired. Many were killed on both sides.

Colonel Ismael Zunega, who pursued
the rebels of Gomez Palacio relentlessly, has resigned as jefe politico, and gone to Mexico City.

Didn't Want the Jewelry.
Shelbyville, Ind., March 7.—While the employees of the undertaking establishment of Stewart & Fix were absent from their place of business, a burglar entered and, opening the safe, took $38 in money. There were several checks and three gold watches, one containing a diamond, in the same drawer, but these were left untouched.
The safe had been left unlocked.

Two Bandits Electrocuted.
Boston, March 7.—Wassili Ivan-kowsky and Andrei Ipsen, two of the three Lithuanian bandits who terrorized the city of Lynn on June 25 last,
were electrocuted at the state prison
shortly after midnight.

"A NERVOUS WRECK"

"My daughter is rapidly becoming a nervous wreck," said an anxious father to a friend who happened to be a druggist,—"she has no appetite,
is run-down, weak, takes no interest in anything, and we cannot find anything that helps her."

"Why don't you give her Vinol?"—
said the druggist—"it is not a secret nostrum, just a simple and delicious cod liver and iron tonic—and the best strength creator and general all-round tonic we have ever sold in our store. Take a bottle home and try it.
We'll return your money if it does not help her."

Within ten days the father came back for another bottle of Vinol, saying that he had never seen such a change in a girl in his life, and he felt sure one more bottle of Vinol would restore her to her normal condition."

Such cases as the above are constantly coming to our attention, and we ask every run-down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person in this vicinity, and every person suffering from a chronic cough, cold, or bronchial trouble, to try a bottle of Vinol on the same terms as above. F. B.

WAITED UNTIL HE WAS SAFE FROM HANGMAN

Murderer An Interested Legislative Onlooker.

Sacramento, Cal., March 7.—Joseph W. Cooney, wanted in 'Frisco for the murder of his cousin, James Cooney, walked into the assembly chamber,
listened to arguments in favor of the abolition of capital punishment, and after assuring himself that the bill had been passed, surrendered himself to Sheriff Finn of San Francisco, a member of the state senate.

Cooney entered the chamber and took an obscure seat. No one paid any attention to him in the crowd. No one, not even the author of the bill, was more deeply interested than the stranger during the debate. When the bill was finally passed by the assembly doing away with legal executions, Cooney calmly went in search of Sheriff Finn, whom he found in the senate chamber. He revealed his identity and said he desired to surrender.
Cooney's crime was due to jealous rage over the fact that James had supplanted him in the affections of a landlady.

AUTO INVENTOR DEAD

Edward J. Pennington, a Native Hoosier, Was Pioneer in His Line.

Boston, March 7.—Edward J. Pennington, a pioneer inventor of an auto driven by kerosene power, is dead in Springfield, aged fifty. In the first vehicle of this class he took the late King Edward, then the Prince of Wales, for his first ride in a motor car. This was in 1896, and the use of gasoline as a motive power was then forbidden, hence Mr. Pennington, who made the vehicle to be run by a device employing gasoline, was obliged to adapt this, with changes, to the use of kerosene.

He was born in Milan, Ind., and had lived principally in the middle west except for many trips to Europe, to which he had crossed more than forty times. Engines were his hobby.

REFERENDUM BILL PERISHED

To the Last, Hope Was Entertained That Measure Giving the People of Cities a Chance to Vote on Public Service Franchises Might Pull
Through, but the Bill Perished in Conference—Closing Scenes.

Indianapolis, March 7.—The Sixty-seventh general assembly adjourned sine die last night amid scenes characteristic of the breaking up of a legislature in Indiana.

While the senate maintained its decorum to the last, over in the house
the customary disorder began early in the evening and before 10 o'clock the floor was strewn with legislative debris, printed bills, calendars and such like making a white covering over which the members who remained to the last trampled aimlessly, indulging in various forms of good feeling, acting for all the world like a crowd of schoolboys welcoming the last day of school. The speaker held his place, however, the house ostensibly awaiting some belated bills which the senate was threshing out at the last moment, but little was done toward preserving the peace. Speaker Vene-man's popularity with the members was attested a day or two ago by the presentation to him, on behalf of the whole house, of a fine diamond ring.

Denounced the Lobbyists.

By the way, in a pointed farewel speech to the house, the speaker denounced the paid and known lobbyists
that have infested the assembly halls throughout the session. At the outset of his speech the speaker touched on the operations of the lobbyists. He said that he had noticed too much interference in the present legislature
by the lobbyists.

"There are lobbyists who come with good purposes and to assist in pointing out where legislation can be improved, and evil conditions remedied,"
said the speaker.

"The other class is the paid lobbyist. The less said of him or about her the better. The next legislature ought to draft rules and urge on the speaker that he enforce the rules to provide that nobody shall be allowed in the aisles during the proceedings."
"I have noticed, and at times I have manifested impatience when the roll clerk was calling the roll, that members were being interfered with by lobbyists, and that these members had to be reminded that their names had been called for the roll."

"I have seen members surrounded by lobbyists and oblivious to the vote and to the matter they were called to vote on. I believe that the state would be benefited by a rule barring everybody from the floor of the house, especially when bills are up for third reading."

"I feared when I began that I might say something more on this subject of the paid lobbyists, but I have concluded that the least said is the best. I certainly hope that I shall never be obliged or called on to take a retainer
to come here and try to influence legislation."

John A. Lapp, whose services as legislative reference librarian have been of large value to the state and to the legislators, was presented by the house members with an easy chair.

What the Session Cost.

Approximately $126,000 is what the Sixty-seventh general assembly cost
the state, according to a statement made by the committee in charge of the expenditures. This is approximately $6,000 more than the appropriation made for the purpose at the beginning of the session, and is some $3,000 less than the total cost of the session two years ago.

The biggest item of the cost, aside from salaries, was for printing, which has not yet been computed in detail.
It is estimated, however, that it will be about $17,000, or $6,000 less than two years ago. The fact that both houses established a department to superintend the printing, and that Purchasing Agent Donnell, in charge of the department, has given close attention to the business of the department, is held by the committee to be very largely responsible for the saving.

All "grab" resolutions have been discouraged, and both the house and senate adjourned without making the customary "gifts" of public money to the house and senate attaches.

Important Bill Killed.

Almost to the last hour there was still a glimmer of hope for the Grube referendum bill, which had been the object of much buffeting, but it perished in conference, neither house nor senate being willing to concede the demands of the other in the way of amendments. This had been held to be one of the really important measures before the assembly, and many expressions of regret were heard when it was learned that it had fallen by the wayside. This measure would have given the people of a city an opportunity to vote on franchises granted to public service corporations. The legislative apportionment bill also died, members apparently being willing to take chances for another two years with the present apportionment.

ASKED FOR SIGNERS ON RURAL ROUTES

Success For Sunday Closing of the Postoffice Seems to be Assured—Secured Many Names.

PETITION IN HIGH SCHOOL

Hon. Charles A. Frazee, Postmaster, Rushville, Ind.
Dear Sir:—Whereas, I do not believe that Sunday mail is a necessity, I respectfully petition you that the local postoffice be closed on Sundays and that Sunday work be dispensed with as far as possible, in order to give the postoffice employees one day of rest each week.

The above petition, printed on cards is being circulated on all the rural routes out of the city and are being signed freely. It is the plan of the local postoffice authorities to obtain as many signers as possible in their effort to effect a Sunday closing. J. P. Stech, who is circulating the petition in the city continues to meet with success. Yesterday the petition was passed among the high school students and all signed. It is his opinion that the Sunday closing movement will go through, without a dissenting voice.

I. & C. CHANGE TIME SUNDAY

Westbound Limited Trains Leave Here on Even Hour, Locals 35 Minutes After.

MANY IMPORTANT CHANGES

Morning Dispatch to Indianapolis to go at Ten O'clock Instead of Nine.

Beginning next Sunday, March 12, the summer schedule of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company will go in force. Several changes in the time of the cars which pass through here are noted.

The morning and evening Dispatches, both eastbound and westbound are changed. The morning westbound Dispatch, which has been leaving here at 9:04, will leave at ten o'clock sharp on and after next Sunday. The evening Dispatch, going in the same direction, which has been due here at 5:04, is now due at six o'clock sharp, arriving in Indianapolis at 7:06. The morning eastbound Dispatch, which is now due to arrive here at 9:06, is due at 9:11. The evening Dispatch in the same direction, due here now at 7:06, will arrive at 5:11, when the new schedule goes into effect.

It is a notable fact that the cars do not run so late nor so early under the new schedule as they have been under the old schedule with few exceptions. The last car out of Indianapolis leaves at 11:30 as usual which is the only instance where a change has not been made. This is done to accommodate the theater crowds. The first car for Connersville in the morning will leave at 6:50 whereas there is one now at 5:20 and 6:20. The last car from Connersville at night arrives here at 11:28 and stops here. There is another arrives here at 10:00. The first car out of Rushville in the morning for Indianapolis leaves at 4:53 and another at 5:58, the station not being open for the first one. The last car out of here at night for Indianapolis will leave at 10:00 whereas there is now one at 11:09.

There is a general rule for reckoning the time of the locals and limiteds, with few exceptions. The westbound limiteds, beginning at eight o'clock in the morning, leave on the even hour. The westbound locals leave thirty-five minutes after the even hour, with the exception of the first three in the morning, which are irregular, and the one at 8:39 in the morning and 4:39 in the afternoon. The eastbound limiteds, including the second local in the morning, which runs on limited time, leave at nineteen minutes after the odd hour. The eastbound locals, not including the first one in the morning, which is irregular, and the second one, which runs on limited time, leave at forty-three minutes after the even hour.
